

Editor's Comment:

I have reviewed the manuscript. I don't find it acceptable for publication in its present state. The manuscript is completely out of Journal Format. The Authors failed to read the Instructions to Author before preparing, submitting and resubmitting the manuscript. Even after this was mentioned by the Reviewers, the authors failed to address the vital issues raised by the Reviewers other than being arrogant in their responses. All those things they deem no reason to revise are left and are flaws!! The study is limited in information and no innovation, nevertheless the study could be classed as contribution to knowledge. In as much as a wide audience will read the manuscript if accepted, not just a local Journal, I recommend returning the manuscript to the authors for major revision!!
