PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment The corrections have been made. Images were made in-house and we have indicated our lab as the source. Chromosomal aberration test is simply karyotyping with the view to in this case identify anomaly rather than the karyotype of the species. For this reason, we didn't include them so as not to repeat the banding techniques. The micronucleus assay yes we have included it.
Compulsory REVISION comments	Images of the staining techniques should be included Tests like micronucleus and chromosomal aberrations assay should be included in the review Figures must indicate the source they were taken	Corrections have been done
Minor REVISION comments	Grammar and spelling should be reviewed, there are some minor mistakes indicated on the text
Optional/General comments
