Minor REVISION comments	This paper deals with the Effect of annealing temperature on the optical properties of TiO₂ doped Fe₂O₃ dye dissolve in ethanol solvent, it is important for the solar cell preparation of the nanostructure material. So I support it to be published in the journal after minor revision. 1, all equations are written by equation editor with all symbols of physical quantities in italic format; 2, please add a space bar between number and its unit; 3, keep the line size in the figures as the same; 4, in figure 3, the Scanning electron microscope picture has no magnification power;	1/ Thank you for this opinion and we hope that this review will contribute to your satisfaction 2/The equations were revised and numbered 3/ A space was placed between the unit and the value 4 / Redirected font size 5/ Zoom has been done in figure 3
