

Editor's Comment:

I am cordially inform you that there may be a confusion about revised version by author and evaluated version by editor. I have attached herewith the documents, first one that I have sent to you as editorial comments on 1st march 2019 and second one you have sent me for editorial comments on 2nd March 2019. I found that both are similar files. Would you please recheck the files again? The another thing is, I perhaps receiving two different emails simultaneously regarding the same manuscript from you but those representing two different updates about the manuscript that confusing me too. Hope you will please recheck it also. Now it would be better if you make me know about the last status about the manuscript. Moreover, I also attached herewith the word file containing my last Editorial evaluation comments (3rd attachment) that I have sent on 1st March 2019.
