

Editor's Comment:

I've seen the paper contents and reviewer reports.

From the point of my view, the aim and a plan of this research are routinely implemented and don't achieve the complete qualifying scientific research. This work can be carried out as a technical report via the Ministry of Health or agriculture Inspectors. Anyway, this paper might be accepted for publication after considering the reviewer's comments, but finally, the acceptance must be decided by evaluating it through the editorial committee of this journal.
