

Editor's Comment:

The problem has not been solved. In fact, the sentence added by the authors ("a permission (approval) to carry-out this study was given by the relevant authorities in my country") is too generic and cannot be accepted. I will try to be clearer: the authors should indicate the protocol number of the permits obtained and specify which institution of their nation has approved their research.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Fabio Maria Guarino
Researcher of Citology and Comparative Anatomy, Aggregate Professor of Evolutionary Biology, Department of Biology, Complex Universitario Monte S. Angelo, University of Naples Federico II, Via Cinthia, 80126 Naples (Italy)