

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript number 2019/SAJRM/49371, entitled "Antimicrobial Activity of Lactic Acid Bacteria from Kunun-Zaki on Selected Clinical Pathogens" submitted for publication in May 17, 2019 has now been reviewed by the external referees. The manuscript is within the scope of the journal and the corrections suggested by the reviewers were made. The theme is relevant, unpublished and dissemination of the results of this study will certainly contribute to the scientific community. However, few corrections should be conducted to further improve the quality of the paper presented. The considerations are highlighted in the manuscript.

Accepted after minor revision
