

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript entitled "Antifungal Effects of Combined Extracts of Euphorbia abyssinica and Coleus species" was much improved by the authors and the latest version was modified according to the feedback of reviewers but still some flaw are left in the manuscript for example, statistical evaluation of results is not properly done yet. Statistical analysis results should be correctly discussed. Significant and non-significant levels are not clearly understood by the authors.

After removing some minor english mistakes and correct statistical description, it could be published.
