PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The Figure 1 is not necessary.</li> <li>- The Tables 1, 2 and 3 are very large. Therefore, the data presented in Figure 5 may be excluded from Tables. Alternatively, the authors may opt only for figure and exclude the tables.</li> </ul>	-All the figures in the manuscript have been omitted. -The tables in this investigation tallies well with the aims of this study. More so, discussion of results of the study can only be simplified by grouping the oils into hard and soft oils and oils from the local fryers. Unless the original aim of the research is to be compromised, these tables cannot undergo any further reduction nor integration into a single table.
Optional/General comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- it is known that the frying oil can not be used several times. However, it is interesting to show this to society, through the observed changes in their physical and chemical properties.</li> </ul>	This is true. Though, research is required especially in communities where blending of different oils like in Uganda is common place.
