The following comments should be considered. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - For Abstract, follow the journal format. Please consult author guideline. - Provide the results of monitoring system that the author made after and before use of the system. This is very important. - Provide the units of the X and Y axes Fig. 10. 	The changes made this time are as follows: The abstract format mentioned in the comment, because the account cannot be registered, the paper template has not been downloaded successfully and has not been changed yet. For the domestic sewage treatment process, the research focus of this paper is on the monitoring and simulation system developed on the basis of Kingview software. The main realization is the real-time monitoring of the sewage treatment process, which does not involve the effect of sewage treatment. Therefore, in the article there is no comparison of the results of sewage treatment. The unit in Fig. 10 has been modified. The unit of the liquid level in the text is centimeters and the unit of time is seconds.
