Compulsory REVISION comments	The data collected from the SAARC of 12 months is not enough to predict rainfall variation. Climate determinant takes 10,20 35 years to assess it variability. Describe your methods software used and the techniques employed for analysis of your data Check you research gap (1.5) is not the same with scope of the study The study are map need to be in detail using good cartographical tool to show areas affected by the rainfall or shows area affected by the predicted rainfall .
Minor REVISION comments	The language used need to be improved Check your citation it looks like most of the information are from the net. I think this proof that the research is not empirically done rather its dependent on the theory obtained from the website
Optional/General comments	This paper is seems to be a written Thesis which need to narrowed to a journal paper where most of the detail are not necessary to be included.
