

Editor's Comment:

The proposed manuscript is dealing with a very vulnerable group i.e. infants. At the age of 6 month a child is prone to allergies and different food groups a primarily introduced to the body.

Peanuts for example, cannot be introduced to a child's diet at such age.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Aneta Popova

Chief assistant Professor, Department of Catering and tourism, University of food technologies, Bulgaria