

Editor's Comment:

Even though both reviewer comment minor correction, but I do not think that this manuscript should be publish in the journal. One of the reviewers suggested that the author should find an expert to proofread his manuscript. I think the author just did not do enough to improve his manuscript grammar and English. It is still poorly written in the latest edited manuscript.

Therefore, I would recommend that the manuscript should be REJECTED unless the author does a major improvement on the manuscript grammar and writing.
