

Editor's Comment:

After considering the opinion of the reviewers of the manuscript entitled "Recurrente Intestinal Necrosis due to polystyrene sulphonate use - a case report", and after carefully reviewing the text of said manuscript, my opinion is that some minor fixes and adjustments have yet to be made before it can be accepted for publication:

1. In the item "Abstract" should not contain citations of references (numbers 1 to 6).
2. Writing the "Introduction" of the work exactly like the first paragraph of the "Abstract" item is inappropriate. The "Introduction" item should be reviewed and rewritten.
3. In all the item "Discussion" there are only quotes of 3 references. This item ("Discussion") is the most important of all the work, and it is extremely necessary to compare the presented data with previously published data in the world literature.
