

Editor's Comment:

Comments on the Article

1. The article gives a historical account and describes the travels of one of the Explorers in West Africa and his experiences during such travels and it relates to vegetation and human activities.
2. The article is interesting as it explores the area of botany and links it to Mungo Park who hitherto was known for the discovery of the sources and courses of rivers particularly in Africa.
3. The Author(s) have followed the review comments and make the required corrections to make the manuscript publishable. However, I would like to observe some few areas in the manuscript that should be corrected.
 - (a) Line 4 of the Conclusion—The correct word is “ but he did not really” NOT “ but he did ot really.”
 - (b) Line 7 of the Conclusion states that Parl is notably remembered for Locus bean tree but what about Shea butter tree I suggest it should also be included there.
 - (c) Line 11 of the Conclusion—many changes in economic NOT economics
 - (d) Last sentence of the Acknowledgement –“ being photographed and to their..NOT “being photographed ad to their..”
4. I recommend the manuscript for after effecting the corrections.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Suleiman Iguda Ladan
Department of Basic and Applied Sciences, Hassan Usman Katsina Polytechnic, Katsina, Nigeria