

Editor's Comment:

It will be a loss if I reject the manuscript because it is great at work. so, I follow the responsibility to the manager of the journal or other colleagues to accepted the manuscript. the manuscript still needs major revision[it still contains more than 58% of plagiarism and some English error, It is inappropriate to publish in this way].

I have notes to the author to be considered if he likes it in his next work. The sham control group: is a group normal without any diseases that evaluate of side effect of any studied extract, it means it is a normal animal or normal cell according to what used in the study.
