

Editor's Comment:

The paper has gone through the reviews, but some points are missed out.

The paper has some good points. It can be recommended by me for publication provided they look into the following points.

They have created their own database which is good but they have to mention the lighting other conditions if possible.

However, kindly ask the authors to look into the following:

The database is not a public/standard database. I recommend not to use it in the title. Further, it is an Acronym

The parts of program used in Sections 2.3.1 and 2.4.1 are available in Mathworks website under different author names.

Kindly mention the source/cite them

Most of the words are combined in the text. Kindly go through them and correct the grammatical errors.
