

Editor's Comment:

Despite repeated comments by the reviewers on the format of the references, the authors have failed to format the references in the text. The manuscript is rather poorly written and requires English editing.

Authors are recommended to refer to other published manuscripts for presentation of the figures in results (graphs), it seems that the figures are taken directly from a poster presentation.

Please remove Dr lal Pathlabs logo from the figures and no color highlighted description!

After considering the reviewers comments and amendments done by the authors, my recommendations for publication are as follows:

The manuscript should be published only after the authors address the followings:

the manuscript to be revised and written in proper English which is scientifically sound.

References to be corrected and numbered accordingly in the text.

Figures to be done in simple graph with no "Dr lal Pathlabs" logo or color highlighted description.
