

Editor's Comment:

I checked the evaluation process and the final paper.

The paper can not be accepted for publication in this form. Requires finishing and improvement.

1. Firstly, the decimal point (.) should be written in the whole paper. Currently, the text is punctuated and in the tables, graphics - with the comma (,).

2. References must be arranged correctly, according to the instructions for editing, DOI must be passed correctly, the journal page must be listed for all citations.

3. Finishing editing.

After these improvements, the paper can be accepted for publication.
