

Editor's Comment:

I read carefully the new version of the manuscript in evaluation. Although the authors have made an effort to implement suggested corrections, there are still some defects in the text style.

For example:

In the results (paragraph 142) the authors refer to other publications. This should be included in the discussion. The same happens with the references included in the conclusions (paragraphs 165 y 169).

I think these issues should be corrected before accepting the manuscript definitively for publication.
