

Editor's Comment:

I have read the manuscript and reviewers comments and I believe that it can be accepted for publication. I have some remarks though such as, how many plants were used per replication and in line 114 it should not be temperature (please correct it). Furthermore, I believe that the equations in figures 6 and 7 should be in the form $y=ax+b$ and not just a number. Please also indicate the r^2 .
