

Editor's Comment:

I have scrutinized the Peer Review documents for the manuscript titled "A Spatial Analysis Of Political Participation In Telangana State, India". I saw that authors of the manuscript have made great progress with the help of referees' comments, in the revised version of the document. One of the referees, Eva, gave a little bit lower grade than the other two referees. However Eva's major research area is not closely related to the scope of the paper. Therefore that grade can be ignored. The paper can be accepted for the publication in Journal of Geography, Environment and Earth Science International.
