Compulsory REVISION comments	Nothing
Minor REVISION comments	(1) In the last line of "1. Introduction", "which effect the breastfeeding" should be replaced with "which affect the breastfeeding". (2) In the first line of "4. Discussion", "In our study was determined" should be replaced with "In our study it was determined". (3) In the first paragraph in "4. Discussion", "is less than desired. in our study" should be replaced with "is less than desired, in our study".	I made the requested arrangements
Optional/General comments	In "2.3. Statistical Analysis", you wrote " The data gathered from the groups were compared with the Kruskal-Wallis Test, one-sample T test, Mann-Witney U test and Pearson Correlation Test ". However, in Table 2, nothing is written about which statistical method was applied to each comparison. Addition of explanation on this matter would make this paper more persuasive.	I rearranged the result of the article.
