

Editor's comment:

1. Strictly follow the journal format for reference
2. Include Authority for plant name

Author's feedback:

With regards, we would like to thank for careful and thorough reading of this manuscript and for the thoughtful comments and constructive suggestions, which help to improve the quality of this manuscript.

As per editors comment we follow the journal format for reference and also include authority for plant name.

Hopefully, this manuscript is arranged according to your journal.

The research work is now directed towards finding naturally occurring antioxidants of plant origin. Antioxidants are vital substances that possess the ability to protect the body from damage caused by free radicals induced oxidative stress.