Minor REVISION comments	In this paper authors adopted a method to select plus trees for flower production is described and named as a crown-area-based method. Both individual-based and crown-area-based methods were used to select plus trees for Camellia impressinervis, a golden camellia; its yellow flowers have been widely used to treat sore throat and diarrhea, and to prevent cancers. Flower production of 21 concerned individuals was compared to the population mean and it was generated as a percentage. The population mean of the individual-based method is the mean of production of 21 trees as mean production/tree. It is concluded that crown-area-based method is better in selecting plus trees for flower purpose, as it considers the crown area which is known as a productive part of a tree to form flowers. The study is very interesting and manuscript is almost structured properly. Following Explanations are needed- Page 2, Line 61: 2.MATERIALS AND METHODS is to be replaced as: 2.MATERIALS AND METHODOLOGY Page 6, Lines 185-196: 5.CONCLUSION is to be re-written with point wise.
Optional/General comments	Manuscript is interesting and structured properly, but need to be improvised linguistically. The review manuscript is recommended for publication after incorporating above suggestion / comments.
