Compulsory REVISION comments	1. The paper is poorly written. I recommend that the author(s) should send the paper to a native of English for proofreading and corrections. 2. The author(s) should visit the APA 7th Edition and master citations/referencing style. In the reference section, the author used CSE (council of science editor) style, thereby appearing to be using two styles of documentations at the same time. 3. Better still, the author should visit this Journal, particularly the author section. 4. The results are quite impressive, but the presentation of the article is too poor. The should address (1) above and resubmit the paper for review.
