PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
The theme dealt here is important. The authors involved my suggestions into this version. Making 6 categories to examine patients' satisfaction may be useful in some settings. Generalization, if it had been made, may have improved the paper quality further; however, the present data may be of some use to making batter medical policy in this area.
