Compulsory REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The language needs to be improved. I have corrected and highlighted them in the manuscript. Please go through them. 2. There are several mistakes of both grammatical and typographic forms in the manuscript. Please make the manuscript been read by native English speaker to avoid them. 3. References are not uniform. Please arrange them uniformly as guided by the journal. 4. The work is quite novel, it is recommended to include ¹³C-NMR, Elemental Analysis, and Mass data for a further confirmation. 5. Please provide the IR-spectrum of the parent compound chloroquine. It will be of great learning experience for the audience to differentiate and get acquainted with the plausible changes as suggested. 6. Please include a paragraph discussing the geometry of the complex. There are several other information presented through the characterization that are needed to be discussed. 7. Provide adequate and genuine references to support the text materials. 8. Do present all the possible IR and NMR data in the standard format. Please refer any chemistry journal for the proper format.
