Compulsory REVISION comments	-This is an important research topic. However, the statistical procedures are sound and logical. However, the writing and presentation of the report is not clear. For example, the author needs to describe/define what "mental skills" means. It seems mental skills here refers to cognitive skills? Or, nursing competence? Physical assessment skills? Clinical skills? -It would be helpful to use a professional editor to edit the manuscript. It helps the sentences to flow better and easier to follow. -limitation of the study cannot be unwillingness of some nurses to participate in the study. If this affected the number of participants in the study, it needs to be addressed as such. Also, this seems to be a convenience sampling method.
