

Editor's Comment:

In reading through the revised manuscript, it is obvious that the authors have made a great effort in addressing all the comments provided by the reviewers.

However, this manuscript still requires a thorough spell-check as well as English language (there is no such word as ecoloziation and representativity) improvement in order to enhance its readability quality. Besides, the reference list should use authors' first names initials instead of first names in full.

If the authors may revise according to the above suggestions, this paper is readied for publication as "original research paper".
