Comment #5 from my previous evaluation has not been addressed. I requested a comparative study and visualization of it by using some plots.  All others have been addressed.	A comparative study has been carried out and written in the manuscript where the existing network architecture of the institution under study showing its weaknesses in the area of network protection for which an improved security architecture with firewall, VPN gate way and secure network devices were incorporated. Figs. 3 and 4 show an in-depth comparative analysis to be visualised.
