Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	-Some comments are on the manuscript. -HOWEVER, is important that authors clear completely if they are working with seeds or with diaspores (seed + carpel), in this case a nutlet. The photographs presented are showing diaspores or nutlets. A nutlet is a small nut, one of the lobes or sections of the mature ovary of some members of the Boraginaceae, Verbenaceae and Lamiaceae. The nut is a hard, dry, indehiscent fruit, usually with a single seed. -Why do I insist on this? Because, this is an enormous work, it has a large quantity of data, but if we do not know the material correctly we have a trouble here. The botanical identity of species used, and the knowledge of parts of material used are the basis for to have interesting and valuable results. I believe the authors can clear this, without problem.
Optional/General comments
