PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
I thank the authors for their work to revise the manuscript. I am afraid, however, they did not address my main concern about how the diagnosis of TB was made. Since most of the children did not have bacteriologic confirmation and since most did not have Xray findings, what criteria were used to determine that the children had TB? Until this answer is provided in more detail, the paper cannot be accepted.
