Compulsory REVISION comments	The paper content is difficult to pursue due to usage of different terminology for the same indicator, or usage of different abbreviations, too (even if in literature we meet also some non-concordances). The author needs to carefully review the paper content and to do the necessary changes, as I recommended. I appreciate that the Tables titles should be shorter. There are also some problems as regard as the English language, in the case of the used values. The necessary correction should be done. At the References section, Instructions for authors need to be respected.
