

Editor's Comment:

The subject is really interesting and also the methodology and statistic tools used can be considered as a very good. The results are also very important. I have seen the reviewer's reports and also the author responses. I think the author did good job and answered all the required inquiries from the reviewer's. Based on that, I recommend to accept the paper for publication in your Journal, especially that, it is fit to the scope of your journal.
