

Editor's Comment:

Though the reviewers' comments are mild and seem the authors have responded to the comments, I think it is still not good enough to accept at the moment.

To strike a high quality of our journal, I think the authors should

1. Improve the English and writing, better to be edited by professional.
2. The discussion on the results, compare to other published work and the significance of their current work need to be elaborated in details.

Editor's Details:

Dr. William CS Cho
Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Hong Kong