EDITORIAL COMMENT'S on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to editor's comments
First of all authors should point at the important places in photographs by adding arrows thus readers who does not know how to evaluate the graphs and photos may understand where are the regions or problems e.t.c. inthe graphy or picture. After this we can accept the manuscript for publication.	Thanks for your prudent guidance. I have pointed the lesion in radiological images, i.e. Fig 1,2 &amp; 5. For pathological images, the background carries same importance as for the cluster of malignant cells; hence, no pointing was considered. Please crop and edit as required.
