PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	The paper is aimed at the valuable task to create new material for thermal neutrons detection. The authors have shown the sensitivity of synthesized samples to a weak thermal neutrons irradiation. But the Tables do not show possible errors level, so, it is difficult to estimate the effectiveness of their detectors, especially working with weak levels of irradiation. So, the estimations of the errors level could improve the paper. The preparation and investigation of samples is careful enough, but it is desirable to provide more clear answer, is the main goal of the investigation reached, are the materials good enough for neutrons detection or their technology should be improved. But the main problem of the paper is with English language: no comma before 'which', small letter t in Table, the absence of is, s, d, when needed, and so on.	We have checked the manuscript and errors have been re4moved Grammatical corrections have been made according to the comments of the reviewers'
Minor REVISION comments	There are many errors in English, marked by yellow in the text. So, the paper should be corrected by professional corrector.	Revised and effected in the MS
Optional/General comments	The paper may be recommended for publishing after a careful correction of English!	Okay
