Optional/General comments	The manuscript is interesting for the researchers working on fertilization and soil sources, and for the growers of Moringa plants. The current study has been conducted for optimum performance of Moringa seedlings at nursery stage. Authors have given sufficient data on vegetative growth parameters of Moringa seedlings and logical explanation for their results. The obtained result showed that the natural forest soil mixed with 10gm N.P.K produced Moringa seedlings with highest values (plant height, stem diameter and number of branches) compared to other treatments. The current manuscript is clearly written and the language is fine. The manuscript can be accepted for publication in International Journal of Plant & Soil Science.
