Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript identifies synergistic effects of aqueous extracts of Croton zabensicus and Vernonia amygdalina leaves on alloxan diabetic rats without any discernible hypoglycemic adverse effects. The experiments are well designed and the results are interpreted appropriately and conclusions properly drawn. However, there are numerous typographical errors and grammatical errors. The manuscript has to be improved a lot in its readability. For example, synergistic effects are misspelled as synergetic throughout the manuscript. The line 4.1 conclusion is very complex and has multiple errors throughout the sentence.
