Compulsory REVISION comments	I used track changes so the author's should check the main manuscript. In the methodology, you must indicate how all the predictors were measured. Also the coefficients are too big which is not the best. The authors may consider dividing the numeric figures by a common denominator before running the regression. Also, since it is linear regression, tests such as heteroscedasticity, autocorrelation, and multicollinearity should be conducted to ascertain the robustness of the results. In addition, the authors need to work on grammar and comprehension.
Minor REVISION comments
Optional/General comments	The paper is novel and very interesting and I hope the authors would work on the comments to improve upon the paper.
