The presentation of the results, as well as the discussion and conclusions are adequate and consistent. However, few corrections should be conducted to further improve the quality of the paper presented. The considerations are described below.

Line 30: Correct the word: consumed

Line 34: Saccharomyces cerevisiae is

Line 35: Replace microorganisms by microorganisms

Line 46: for the production

Line 50: (Yerushaml and volesky, 1981)... Volesky (uppercase)

Line 82: correct the word... haemocytometer

Line 178: correct the word... Official

Line 178: uppercase... franklin

Check all references, several names are in lowercase.

The manuscript number 2019/MRJI/48070, entitled "Comparative Efficacy of Different Brands of Baker's Yeast Used in Bread production in Jos Metropolis, Nigeria" submitted for publication in Mar 4, 2019 has now been reviewed by the external referees. Major corrections were made. The theme is relevant, unpublished and dissemination of the results of this study will certainly contribute to the scientific community. However, few corrections should be conducted to further improve the quality of the paper presented. After corrections, the manuscript is acceptable for publication.
