Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	In the abstract the conclusion of the work is not present. The discussion only state the results found in the research, not explaining the why of the results. It would be more appropriate to explain the results from the literature. In the introduction he states that the system used to evaluate the use of nitrogen in the corn crop is costly. In conclusion he states that farmers should use this technique. So it became redundant, I suggest you emphasize your conclusion on the key results and their importance to farmers
Optional/General comments
